City Votes Control Convention

Delegates from Randall County precincts 9, 10, 12 and 14 dominated the Democratic county convention Saturday night, passing two resolutions suggested by the State Democratic Executive Committee and electing a slate of delegates to the state convention.

The four precincts are in Amarillo. At times, the four were joined by Precincts 11 and 15, also in Amarillo. Precincts 1 and 13, in Canyon, voted together as did Precincts 6 and 8. Precinct 6 is south of the Amarillo city limits and Precinct 8 is Umlinger.

Precincts 3, 4, 5 and 7 did not file returns of a precinct convention and were not certified to take part in the county convention. Precinct 2 failed to send any delegates.

One item brought up in the convention had no bearing on party politics. J. T. Webster of Precinct 14 made a short speech in which he said that he "thinks it is time for the county commissioners court to redistrict the commissioners precincts" on a population basis.

Webster did not submit the idea as a resolution, and there was no vote taken on the subject.

William Q. Boyce of Amarillo and David R. Matthis of Canyon were nominated as permanent chairman of the convention. Boyce won by a vote of 143 to 74. Matthis carried Precincts 1, 11, and 13 and Boyce took the rest.

A. C. Haley Jr. was elected permanent secretary by acclamation.

Marion Bruce of Amarillo submitted a list of delegates to the state convention and moved that they be bound by the unit rule. Luther Hagard of Canyon submitted a substitute list of delegates and Frank Storm Jr. of Amarillo moved that the substitute motion be tabled.

The Hagard slate of delegates was tabled by a vote of 136 to 81 with Precincts 9, 10, 12, 14, 15 and three votes from 13 voting to table.

The slate of delegates nominated by Bruce was elected by a vote of 170 to 10 with Precinct 1 abstaining. Only Precincts 6 and 8 voted against the slate.

B. R. Barfield of Amarillo submitted a resolution which was seconded by Charles Wilson of Amarillo. The resolution, suggested by SDEC, was:

"Whereas, Art. 13.57 of the Texas Election Code states 'no new political party shall assume the name of any pre-existing party...'

"Whereas, the flagrant and unauthorized use of the name 'Democrats of Texas' by the DOT splinter group has caused confusion, distrust, and disorganization within the party and is contrary to the law,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved: That this convention condemns the attempted usurpation of the name of the 'Democratic Party of Texas' by the DOT and demands that the use of the name be discontinued."

Hagard presented a substitute motion which was seconded by Herschel Coffee of Canyon. The resolution, passed in the Precinct

13 convention, was:

"Resolved: That the state party organization respect the action of the district caucuses; second, that when this has been accomplished, to call on all Democrats in Texas to unite in support of the duly constituted party organization."

In discussion, Hagard said the substitute resolution would "heal the breach" between different parts of the Democratic party, whereas the SDEC resolution would tend to split the party further apart. Hagard said that if the statutes had been followed in 1956, the DOT would not have been formed.

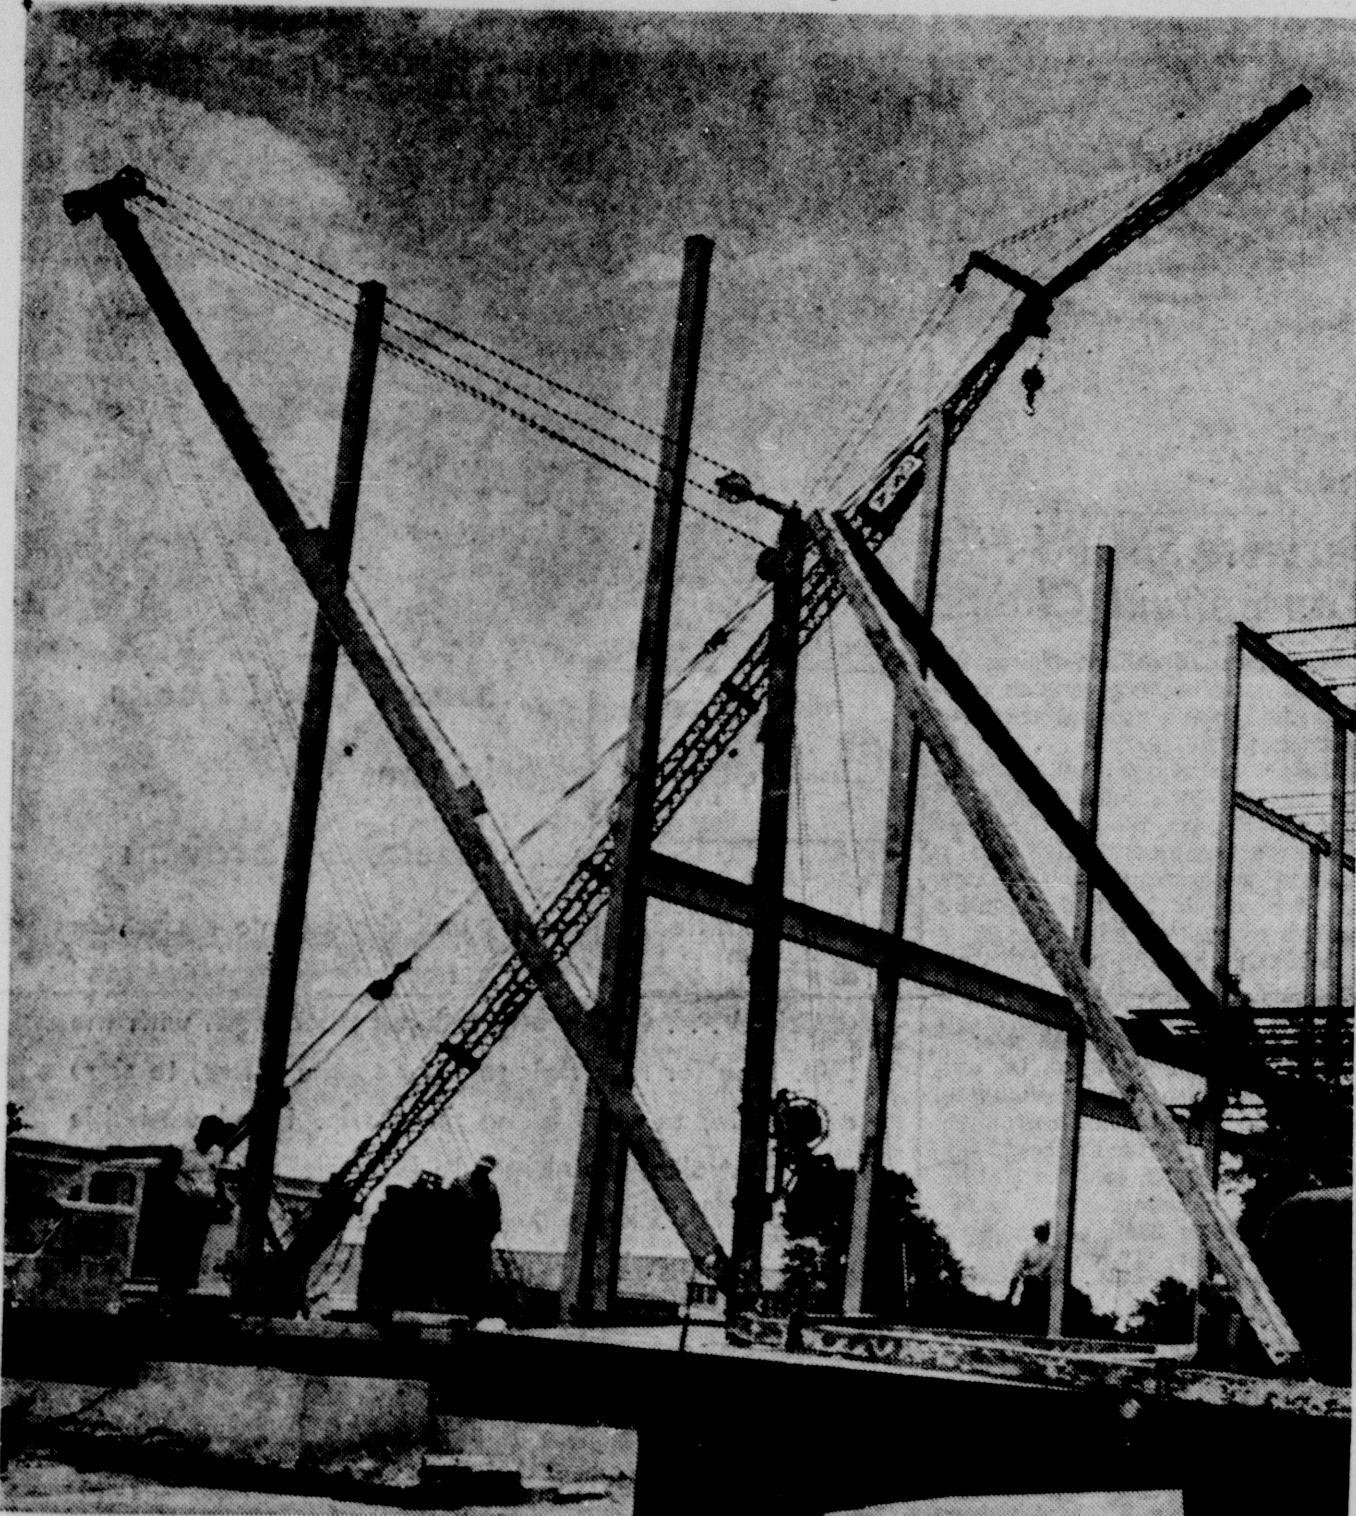

He said the statutes require that the nominations of the district caucuses for state committeemen and committeewomen be elected by the convention.

Tom Seay of Amarillo said the substitute resolution was "ambiguous" and moved that it be tabled.

Coffee, speaking in behalf of the substitute, said the Democrats attending the Precinct 13 convention discussed the SDEC resolution and reworded it in order to

'X' Marks the Spot

Crossed booms make an "X" where the addition to the science building is under construction. Steel erectors have been busy the past couple of weeks installing the framework for the addition, which will "cross the T" of the building.

4 Delegates Will Attend Meeting

Four persons will represent Randall County at the state Texas Home Demonstration Association Aug. 13-15 in Austin.

Representatives will be Mrs. R. A. Hodges, county THDA chairman; Mrs. Dick Barrett, Westside, Home Demonstration Club; Mrs. Marion Williams, Canyon Home Demonstration Club; and Mrs. Mona K. Hildreth, home demonstration agent.

The quartet, along with other delegates from District I, will leave Amarillo by bus Aug. 12. They expect to return Aug. 16.

Highlights of the convention will be workshops on civil defense, citizenship, recreation, education, health, safety and 4-H Clubs; election and installation of officers and assemblies.

Babe Ruth Meeting Slated For Monday

A meeting of the Babe Ruth League officers, board of directors and fathers of the present players will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the West Texas State College field-house.

Up for discussion will be a list of problems which the league has faced in its first year of operation. Included in the list are getting umpires, care of the new diamond with special emphasis on irrigating, lights and poles for the coming season, coaches and assistants, Little League graduates and their absorption into Babe Ruth teams, finances, scheduling and any other questions or suggestions for the good of the baseball program and the two leagues.

"A smooth-running season under lights" is the central aim of the 1959 season. Everyone interested in obtaining this goal is urged to be at this meeting.

Sanford Services Held Saturday

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church for Mrs. Maggie Haselene Sanford, 78, who died at 9:45 p.m. Wednesday in Neblett Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Officiating was the Rev. Edgar Irwin, director of Ceta Canyon Methodist Camp. Pallbearers were Nathan Watson, Tom Platt, Muncy Seay, Max Bosley, Robert L. Brotherton and Roland Hicks.

Interment was in Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

A member of the First Methodist Church, Mrs. Sanford was born Oct. 10, 1879, in Alabama. She came to the High Plains in 1916. Her home at the time of her death was 911 16th St.

Her husband, Charles S. Sanford, died in 1949. Survivors include three daughters, two sons, a brother, 10 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. The daughters are Mrs. Cecil Garrison of Amarillo, Mrs. Ethel Houdershelt and Mrs. Beatrice Bryson, both of Torrance, Calif. The sons are Jack W. Sanford of California and Wayne Sanford of Canyon, and the brother is Bill Wooten of Seymour.

Hospital Gets 3-Year Okay

Neblett Hospital has been notified that it has received approval by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals for another three years.

The hospital was recently inspected and evaluated by the commission. The three-year approval can be revoked if the hospital fails to keep up standards.

Toastmaster Club Organizes Monday

An organizational meeting for a Toastmaster's Club in Canyon will be held at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the Blue Room of the college cafeteria. Adjournment time is 8:30 p.m.

A Toastmasters Club is an organization of men who wish to improve their oral expressions of thought, according to Bob Wear, who is helping organize the club.

The club helps those who wish to become able to speak effectively before audiences, increase their executive and administrative ability, gain experience in chairmanship, learn fundamentals of parliamentary procedure, provide constructive appraisal of efforts of fellow members and promote good fellowship among men interested in self-improvement, Wear said.

Toastmasters is more than a club, it is an education, he said.

Bands, Twirlers Set for Concert

The three bands and twirlers of the West Texas Music Camp, now in progress on the West Texas State College campus, will perform in a concert here Friday. The public is invited.

The program will be at 8 p.m. in Buffalo Stadium. Featured will be the Symphonic Band, conducted by Dr. Ronald Gregory, director of bands at Indiana University; the Concert Band, directed by James Kerr of Wichita University; and the Junior Band, conducted by J. W. King of Hale Center.

Twirlers, coached by Bonnie Williams of Goodman, Miss., will perform during the program.

Dr. Gregory's big Symphonic group is slated to play such numbers as "Elmira Concert March" by Abbott, "Barnum and Bailey Favorites" by King, "Three Chorale Preludes" by Latham and "Latin Lament" by Kepner.

3 Negroes Post Bond for Theft

Three Negro men who are accused of stealing about $25 from Harwood Grocery Thursday afternoon were arrested 20 minutes after the theft and are free after posting $1000 bond each.

They were arrested by Swisher County Sheriff Darrell Smith in Tulsa and were returned to Canyon.

Two Negro men entered Harwood grocery about 1 p.m. and diverted the attention of Mrs. G. W. Harwood. The money disappeared then.

Mrs. Harwood reported to the sheriff's office that the men drove south on Highway 87. In about 20 minutes, Sheriff Smith reported the capture of the three men.

They were identified as Jimmie Lee Dickerson, 30, John Louis Whitaker, 29, and Babe Ruth Jamison, 28, all of Oklahoma City.

Harwood Grocery was robbed by two men in January, 1957, when they entered the store and tied him up. Those men were later captured and were sentenced to five years each in the penitentiary.

The three Negroes were charged with theft under $50.

Redlegs Take 1st With Final Win

The Redlegs scored one run in the bottom of the sixth inning Saturday to defeat the Dodgers 6-5 and end the Little League season.

The victory gave the Redlegs first place in the final standings of the second half of the split season. They also won the first half.

The run came when Don Hawkins doubled to score Steve Burgess, who reached base on an error. Winning pitcher was Alex de Schweinitz.

In the Minor League game, the Redlegs defeated the Dodgers 20-7. The junior Redlegs also finished in first for this half of the split season.

On Thursday night, the Yankees beat the Braves in both Minor League and Major League games, with both games having a final score of 12-9. Bill Long was the winner in the Major, and Randy Brown took the Minor League win.

In the Major League Wednesday night, the Dodgers toppled the Yankees, 8-6, with James Jennings getting the win. The Minor Dodgers also won, 11-3.

Constitutional Amendments

In the general election in November, the voters of the state will be asked to pass on nine amendments to the state constitution. As usual, most of the amendments are really matters that should be decided upon by the legislature and have no place in the constitution.

But with the constitution Texas has, the nine decisions must come straight to the voters for approval.

The full text of the amendments was published in the Canyon News last week, and will be published for three more weeks. In addition, we shall attempt to explain the amendments.

The first on the ballot is the one we believe really has a place in the constitution. The amendment would provide for annual sessions of the legislature and provide an annual salary for legislators rather than the old per-day pay.

The first part of the amendment provides for the annual session, and says the legislature may be called into session at other times when convened by the governor.

Under the amendment, the legislature would convene for the first session in January 1959, and each succeeding two years thereafter. During that session, the first 30 days would be devoted to the introduction of bills and resolutions, acting on emergency appropriations, confirming recess appointments of the governor, and on other emergency matters submitted by the governor.

During the second 30 days of the session, the legislature would hold committee hearings to consider all bills, resolutions and matters submitted by the governor.

In the next 60 days, the legislature would act on the bills and resolutions and on any emergency matters submitted by the governor. The amendment would allow the legislature to determine its own order of business provided four-fifths of the members vote to do so.

The second portion of the amendment sets us the second regular session, which would meet first in January 1960 and each succeeding two years thereafter. In the second session, the legislature is authorized to consider and act on annual appropriations for the general operation of the state and emergency matters submitted by the governor — and emergency matters wouldn't have to pass by a two-thirds vote of the members.

There would be no carry-over of bills from the first to the second session.

The next section of the amendment provides an annual salary of $7500 and expenses of office. It restricts the per-day expenses of office to not more than 120 days for the first session, 60 days during the second session and not more than 30 days for any special session.

The third section of the amendment provides that the lieutenant governor and speaker of the house shall be entitled to temporary residence in the state capital during their term of office.

If the amendment is approved by the voters, the legislators who are elected in the general election in November will be the first to go in with annual sessions and annual pay.

We believe the amendment should be approved by the voters. At present, the legislature meets for 120 days every two years, and is paid for the number of days they meet — provided they do not meet more than 120 days.

Special sessions may be called by the governor, and are limited to 30 days.

Members of the legislature say that it is an impossibility for them to study and understand all the bills that are presented during the 120-day session. Appropriations must be made for two years, and the committee working on appropriations needs practically all that time to get the bill ready.

Therefore, the appropriations bill does not get to the floor of the houses until the last few days of the session, and no one has time to understand what is in it. The legislature finds it nearly impossible to forecast appropriations for two years at a time. We can understand that — indeed, we find it nearly impossible to forecast expenditures for a week in advance.

The pressure of trying to ready the appropriations bill for two years, and the necessary tax bill to go along with it, makes the present session of the legislature a circus. The per-day pay schedule the legislature now has invites bribery and under-the-table horse trading. Probably most members of the legislature find they have to pay out more than they take in during a session just to pay their living expenses in Austin for three months.

During the coming months, we'll hear much more about the annual-session amendment. The amendment is a state-wide project of the Texas Jaycees, and they are sure to publicize it well.

An Easy Start

Saturday night's Randall County Democratic convention got off to a relaxing start, even though there was a certain amount of tenseness and uncertainty in the air.

County Chairman Jack Taylor opened the meeting, then asked for those present to bow their heads for "30 minutes of meditation." His slip drew a laugh, the meditation lasted 30 seconds and the convention went merrily on its way.

I GIVE YOU
TEXAS
By BOYCE HOUSE

Judge Walter Malone, author of the inspiring poem, "Opportunity," presided over a court in Memphis when I was a schoolboy and I was once a witness before him.

I had been on a street-car when a passenger tendered a bill for his fare. It was a ten and the company had a rule that it was not required to provide change for anything more than a five — or maybe only a two.

The passenger said he had no change and offered to permit the conductor to keep the bill until they reached the center of town but the conductor stopped the car and put him off, giving him a shove as he stepped to the ground. It was to tell what I had seen that I was called.

Judge Malone was a rather heavy-set man with graying hair, serious in bearing but with a kindly expression and he asked the very nervous young witness a few questions in a quiet, reassuring tone. (The plaintiff won a verdict for $75 damages, as I now recall).

Variety is the spice of any program.

As Jimmy Walker, the cleverest man who was ever mayor of New York City, used to say, "Never follow a banjo act with another banjo act."

Speaking of Jimmy Walker — In one of his campaigns, he began a speech: "I came here with the ideas that I was going to express written down. But I don't need a planned speech when I speak here in the good old Forty-Ninth Ward."

And he pulled a piece of paper from his pocket, crumpled it up and threw it in a corner of the stage, then he declared, "I'll just speak from the heart." He made a witty and eloquent speech, which his audience received enthusiastically.

Afterward, a reporter, out of curiosity, retrieved the piece of paper and opened it up. It was a laundry bill.

Life has happenings more incredible than Hollywood scripts.

For instance, a producer was going to make a picture which was placed 10 years in the past and he needed a song for a piano-player to give, more or less as the theme song. He wanted a tune which actually had been written in the period but not one that had been a hit because it would be somewhat shopworn. So he selected one which had attracted almost no attention — and it skyrocketed to a place on the Hit Parade.

But the man who wrote it had died.

Farmers Should File
Tax Refund Claims

Farmers may submit claims for Federal gasoline tax refunds until Sept. 30 for the amount used for farming purposes.

Under an April law, farmers are entitled to a refund of the 3 cent-a-gallon tax on gasoline used for farm equipment. This tax is entirely separate from the State tax for which local distributors furnish exemption slips.

A 15-page booklet explaining details may be obtained at the office of John Brazzil, county agent.

Points to keep in mind are:
1. Refund claims must be only for gasoline used in producing or harvesting farm or ranch products.
2. The amount for the fiscal year from July 1, 1957, to June 30, 1958, should be included.
3. Use Form 2240, obtainable at Brazzil's office. There should be only one claim per farm operator.
4. Mail the claims to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, either in Austin or Dallas.
Have proper records for verifying the amount of refund claimed.

What Our Neighbors Say...

Scissor Snippings

Bascom Nelson in the Castro County News: Like everyone else who ever spent much time fishing, we considered people who skittered around over the water with 1x6's anchored to their feet not only crazy, but a menace to health, water safety, fishing and nerves.

But here awhile back we thought we'd take a swing at water skiing to see if it were as bad as we thought. It was.

The first time or two nothing happened. We simply floated in the lake with our feet and skis over our head until the rope tightened and we were pulled cartwheeling through the water. A little of this is guaranteed to make a lump dishrag out of even Tarzan.

But all at once, out of the confusion of flying spray and gurgling smells, we found ourselves standing upright. It was a most unusual sensation — sort of like going down a greasy cobblestone street on out-of-balance roller skates at 40-miles-an-hour.

We also found out that placing oneself in an erect position on top of the water behind a boat was not near as much a problem as staying there.

There are two parts of this water skiing, we found out. The first is to get above the water and to assume a nervous, cautious and wobbly stance behind the boat. The second stage is the falling stage. The lapse of time between these stages, as we see it, is used by the skier only in preparation for the fall.

There are several ways of falling when water skiing, we've found out. One is the slow fall brought on by a series of events. This happens when the skier loses just a little bit of his balance. In correcting for it he slips just a little more in the opposite direction. He corrects again but he hits a little wave just wrong in the process and slips a little sideways. Then a ski skids out and throws him further off balance. This leaves the poor skier feeling like he's on a tight wire in a sandstorm. He starts bobbling, jerking, and skidding until it's hopeless. Then comes the spectacular part. First he loses a ski and is yanked forward. His feet go over his head in sort of a cartwheel. The head slams down on the water like a board and the poor fellow goes tumbling and flopping under about six feet of water. At Buffalo Lake this means coming up covered with a gray muddy slime that hasn't seen the light of day in twenty years.

The next way to fall is just as common. The skier gets up on his feet and is trailing the boat with all the confidence in the world. "There ain't nothin' to this," he thinks, "It's as easy as blub-blub-blub..." and he's several feet under water. This is the hardest to take. Everything's going fine when all of a sudden he's under water for no reason at all.

We still have a hard time understanding all this, because it's one of the fastest-feeling ways of going nowhere that we've seen. But it is quite a bit of fun if you don't weaken.

Ernest Joiner in the Ralls Banner: (Editor Joiner told of the confiscation of the movie "And God Created Woman" by Lubbock County officers. He said he had seen the movie and thought it was not nearly so bad as it had been painted, and thought it much cleaner than "God's Little Acre," for instance. Following is further comment on the subject.)

If Bardot's movies border on indecency, then we had better take a long look at a local and long-cherished institution. We refer to cheesecake cheerleaders and majorettes. We've seen more female posteriors upturned to 40,000 cheering fans in Tech Stadium than Cecil B. DeMille has spectators.

Only reason for their existence is to exhibit as much of their satin-clad fannies to a jammed stadium as is consistent with the cultural standards demanded at athletic contests. Each summer at Texas Tech a school is conducted.

Enrolled are the choicest and most shapely plums of the plains, and they are coached in the fine art of flashing their pants provocatively, to the greater enjoyment of the greater number of drooling spectators.

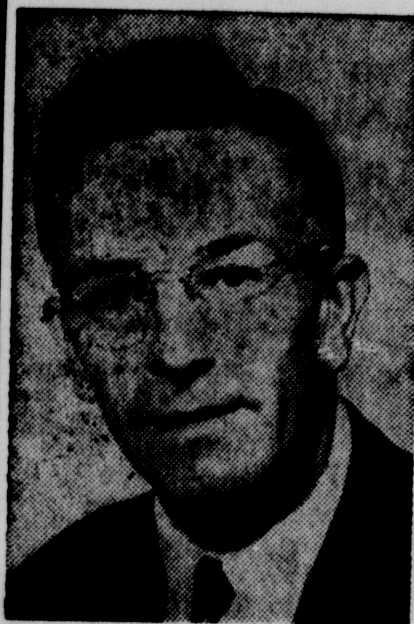

Only reason for these girls becoming synchronized exhibitionists is that you can't sell football or rodeos or bridge openings without sex, any more than you can sell shingles and shellac without it.

The same moralists who cry out against Bardot (obviously an adult of some proportion) are all smiles when a covey of high school quail, ages 13 to 16, publicly put on an exhibition that is indecent and immoral to privately covet and contemplate. How about it, Mr. County Attorney, shall we wrap'em in muslin and kill football? We know the answer. You'd never become district attorney by killing football!

Mrs. Kenneth Williams of Tulia recently spent the night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tomlinson, and with her sister, Mrs. Richmond Hales, went shopping in Amarillo the next day.

Insurance Rates To Be Boosted

Car and truck insurance rates in Randall County and Texas have been boosted by the Texas State Board of Insurance. The increase was caused by the increase in car and truck costs and financial losses suffered by insurance companies.

Families with a male driver under 25 who reside on a farm will pay about 20 per cent less than the non-farm family with a male driver under 25.

The non-farm families will pay $55 for the usual 5-10-5 liability instead of the present $41. Comprehensive coverage will cost $31 instead of $23, and collision with $50 deductible increased from $63 to $68.

All rates quoted are on a 1956 Chevrolet four-door sedan with a V-8 engine.

Non-farm families without a male driver under 25 will pay $37 for liability, an increase of $8; $31 for comprehensive, instead of $23; and $42 for collision with $50 deductible.

Farm families have a lower rate in this classification also.

Single male drivers are hardest hit by the new rates. Liability rates jumped from $63 to $92, an increase of $29. Comprehensive went from $23 to $31 and collision from $82 to $95. Farm boys will pay lower rates.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

With the weather on your side for a change, your rangeland can show a lot of improvement this year.

The drought has set back range grasses in vigor and has even thinned the stand of desirable grasses in many cases.

Any time that you have bare ground on rangeland, annual weeds and inferior grasses will cover those bare spots when moisture does come. After the weeds and annuals become established, the better grasses fight some tough competition in trying to come back.

The Supervisors of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District want to call your attention to "proper use" and "deferred grazing" of rangeland. Both phases mean just what is implied.

Proper use of range grasses simply means leaving enough to prevent damage to vigor and stand of your better grasses; blue grama, sideoats grama, western wheat grass and little blue stem to name a few.

A rule of thumb index to proper use of desirable grasses is average stubble height of 1 1/2 to 2 inches for short growing grasses, 4 to 7 inches for mid-grasses and 7 to 10 inches for tall grasses.

Deferred grazing is the range manager's tool for giving the necessary treatment to the desirable forage plants for maximum development and production. Rest periods, usually for at least three months during the growing season, allow these plants to increase vigor by making full use of moisture and plant food, resulting in more extensive root systems, vegetative growth and seed production. The more vigorous a plant is the better it can hold its own in competition with other plants and grazing animals.

The District Supervisors invite you to call on the Soil Conservation Service Technicians for help with your range problems.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Andrews, who live near Hereford, visited with relatives here recently. Mrs. Andrews is the former Juanelle Burrus.

Zoologist

JOHN G. RIEMANN

Announce New Biology Professor

A University of Texas Ph.D. candidate, John G. Riemann, has been appointed assistant professor of biology for the 1958-59 session at West Texas State College, President James P. Cornette has announced.

Riemann, whose home is Plainview, expects to complete work on his doctorate in zoology at the end of the summer term at the University of Texas. He already holds the M. A. degree from the university.

A native of New Mexico, where he was graduated from Farley High School, Riemann is the son of Mrs. Grace Riemann of Plainview. He attended Wayland College for two years, and earned his B. A. degree in zoology from Texas Tech.

After two years in the Army, Riemann began his graduate work at the University of Texas. His research interests have been primarily in the fields of insect taxonomy and ecology, and for his doctoral dissertation he conducted a study of gall forming insects and their parasites.

While at the university, Riemann was a teaching fellow in zoology, and for the past two years was a research assistant in a project dealing with the biology of certain mosquitos. He is a member of the Entomological Society of America, Kansas Entomological Society, the Society of Sigma Xi, and the Texas Academy of Science.

Besides his mother, Riemann's brother, Donald, lives in Plainview.

Student, Prof Pass CPA Exams

Two women at West Texas State College — one a student and the other an assistant professor of business, have become Certified Public Accountants.

The student, who will complete work for her bachelor's degree in accounting in January, is Tennessee Anne Forrester of Amarillo. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Glynn Morris, 1610 Travis.

The professor is Mrs. Virginia King Allen, who has been a member of the WT faculty since 1955. They both passed all parts of the CPA examinations last spring in Lubbock.

"It is most unusual for a student to acquire his CPA before completing college work," said Dr. C. C. Callarman, chairman of WT School of Business.

With Mrs. Allen acquiring her CPA, all three accounting professors at WT now hold the certificate. The other two are W. F. Haggard, professor of business, and Karl W. Sharp, associate professor of business.

Dr. Callarman said that eight of the nine instructors on the staff who teach at the Amarillo Center also hold the CPA.

Campbell Named To Attend State

Carolyn Campbell, representing Randall County at the District I 4-H Club dress revue Friday in Amarillo, won the right to represent District I at the State Dress Revue in Dallas Oct. 4.

Other winners at the contest, held in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Building, were Peggy Browning of Hereford; Paula Obrecht of Claude; Earlene Schwalk of Perryton and Glynda Harrell of Groom.

Miss Campbell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Campbell, who live northwest of Canyon, won the Randall County show to earn the right to compete in the District Contest.

Judging points were posture, poise, grooming and attitude; choice of material, color, style and fit of the outfit; attractiveness of the outfit; accessories; use of costume and value for money spent; construction of the outfit as to accuracy of cutting and quality of work; and each girl's record of 4-H projects and activities, leadership and personal development.

Miss Campbell modeled a two piece heater tone wool blend suit, the same one that won her the county title.

Funeral Services Held Wednesday

Services to the memory of Mrs. Annie Viola Evans of Tulia were held last Wednesday in the Tulia First Baptist Church with Dr. Neil Record, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Evans is the sister of Mrs. J. C. Dowd and the mother of Mrs. Guy Ford, both of Canyon.

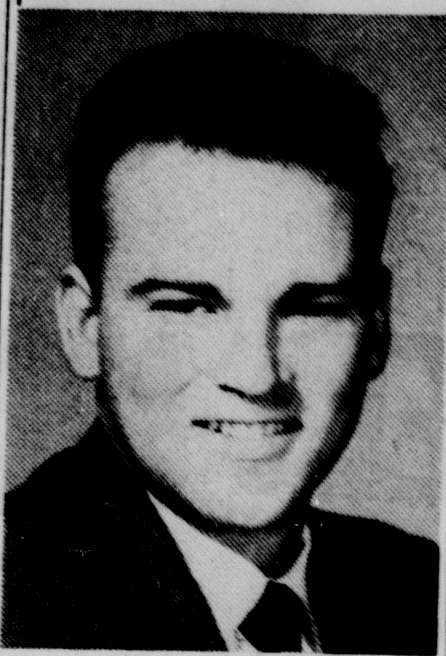

Burial in Rose Hill Cemetery was under the direction of Wallace Funeral Home of Tulia.

Mrs. Evans, 76, collapsed in the yard of her home July 29 and was dead when a physician arrived. Her son, Thomas Everette Evans, preceded her in death by only five days. She reportedly had not recovered from the shock of his death.

Born Aug. 29, 1881, in Wise County, Mrs. Evans moved to Randall County in 1889, where she married the late Murry Evans of Fairview. Following their marriage they moved to Swisher County, where Mr. Evans died in 1936.

Other survivors include another daughter, a daughter-in-law, a brother, 13 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Five Nights Remain In Wayside Revival

A cooperative revival is in progress at the Wayside Church. Rev. Walter Hadley, pastor of the Happy Methodist Church, is conducting the revival, a joint effort of the Methodist and Baptist congregations.

Services will be held at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. daily through Sunday. The meeting began Sunday.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Summit Talks

The Russian Bear has his propaganda machine going at full speed producing advertising designed to convince other countries that Russia is leading the march for world peace. Most Washingtonians in public life recognize that this propaganda barrage has been effective, even though some will not admit it. Our efforts to counteract it by exposing it for what it really is have not been too successful, because the State Department seems to lack the necessary imagination to offset it.

Our knowledge of the purpose which Russia is pursuing should enable anticipatory moves on the part of this country to neutralize 90 per cent of the propaganda, insofar as other countries are concerned.

The recent exchange of notes between the several countries involved concerning summit meetings opened the door for Russia to profit measurably, propaganda wise. I am sure that there must have been excellent reasons for the manner in which the State Department conducted itself with relation to this exchange. However, the people from other countries with whom I have talked felt that their people might think that the United States was reluctant to enter into summit conference.

The proposal of the President with relation to using the United Nations as an agency for handling this matter, no doubt made sense to many who are familiar with the complexities and intricacies of the procedures of that body and international law. But to many peoples in other countries who are not blessed with a great knowledge concerning the operations of the U. N., it could be made to appear as a stalling tactic.

And, Russia would not be averse to placing that appearance on it. It has been known for some time that Russia was using proposals for a summit meeting in its propaganda machine. It appears to me that this knowledge, standing alone, should have alerted us that it was our responsibility to mount a peace offensive in terms that could be clearly understood by peoples all over the world.

Many of us realize that a summit meeting could be misused as a stage upon which to present a propaganda show. Such a misuse would, of course, do more to harm the peace movement than to help it.

Many here feel that it is time for this country to take the initiative and to formulate a policy and an agenda for a summit meeting that will insure participation by those countries who are acting in good faith and expose those who are acting in bad faith for what they are.

The National Debt

By the time this letter reaches you, the Administration will probably have asked for authority to increase the national debt to 288 billions of dollars. The permanent debt ceiling is $275 billion. The Administration heretofore asked this session of Congress for approval to raise the debt ceiling to $280 billion on a temporary basis. This was done.

It presently appears that the new request of the Administration will be that the permanent ceiling be raised from $275 billion to $285 billion and that the temporary ceiling be lifted from $280 billion to $288 billion. The temporary ceiling of $288 billion would probably run until June 30, 1959.

Indians

Last week the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs was considering a bill concerning a number of Indians who were listed by name—such names as Edith Apple Bear, Thomas Hollow Horn, George Mountain Sheep, Stephen Red Elk, Emma Old Horse, and Josephine Thunder Bull. About the center of the list appeared the name, PATRICK O'ROURKE.

The Chairman of the Committee was asked, "What kind of an Indian is Patrick O'Rourke?" Whereupon the gentleman from Nebraska, Phil Weaver, volunteered, "A Cleveland Indian."

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gist Jr. and children are vacationing in Colorado.

ELECTRIC WATER HEATING IS BEST FOR YOU!

These photographs depict simple illustrations of water heating principles. Any high school physics student can perform them. They graphically show why electric water heating is safe, efficient and dependable.

PHOTO 1 — Electric water heaters have cold water baffles. Smoke is used to represent cold water as it enters the water heater at the bottom of the tank. Because of the baffle, the smoke lays on the bottom, just as would cold water entering an electric water heater. The baffle keeps the cold water from mixing with the hot water.

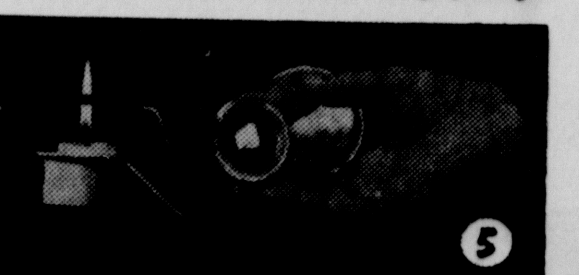

PHOTO 2 — Remove the baffle and the smoke surges through the entire glass just as cold water entering non-electric water heaters surges throughout the tank, reducing the overall temperature of the previously heated water.

PHOTO 3 — Using a paper cup to represent a non-electric water heater and a candle as the heat source, you find that water poured into the cup keeps the paper from burning.

PHOTO 4 — But, now add sand, representing the sediment that collects on the bottom of water heaters due to solids in the water. The bottom of the cup is subjected to excessive heat and will burn out quickly.

PHOTO 5 — This is true because the insulating qualities of the sediment prevent the heat from reaching the water. This graphic presentation shows, too, why old non-electric water heaters become unsafe.

Electric water heaters are fully insulated on all sides. The heating elements wrap around the sides of the tank and are not affected by water solids which may collect in the tank. It is impossible for the bottom of an electric water heater to burn out. Electric water heating is safe and you can get Reddy's special water heating rate—ask your Public Service Company manager.

First Performance Of Play on Tour

Premiere performance of an original play will be seen this week end by a group from West Texas State College who will go to Central City, Colo., for a "week end of drama."

Second of the annual summer tours to the Central City Opera House is slated Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, as the group plans to see shows in Central City and in Elitch Gardens in Denver. The tour is directed by Dr. Ples Harper, head of the modern languages department, and reservations may be made with him.

Highlight of the tour will be the staging of "And Perhaps Happiness" by Thomas H. Ferril, winner of the Denver Post's $10,000 original play contest. The three-act drama tells of the legend of Silverheels, a South Park dance hall girl who nursed early Colorado miners through a disease epidemic and then disappeared.

The show will star K. T. Stevens, television and movie actress, in the lead role of Silverheels. Hugh Marlowe, noted stage and movie actor, will play the male lead, and Allen Dinehart III, TV's "Bat Masterson" of the Wyatt Earp show, will also star. Other roles are to be played by Richard Gaines, Paul McGuire, William Hughes, Ralph Neff, and Barbara O'Neil.

Playwright Ferril is probably Denver's most noted poet, author and essayist. He has written the legendary folk tale in blank verse. Its three acts cover Colorado's dramatic mining period from 1859, second year of the gold rush, to the silver panic of 1893. Scenes are a Gregory Gulch cabin, an English garden, and a Central City mine.

bring agreement of all concerned. "If the party gives genuine opportunity to get the will of the people actually expressed, we'd all go along with it," he said.

"We think a positive resolution would be a first step toward healing this breach," Coffee said.

The motion to table the substitute resolution carried by a vote of 129 to 88 with Precincts 9, 10, 12 and 14 voting for tabling. Hagar then moved that the motion by Barfield be tabled, but the motion failed by a vote of 129 to 88, with the same precincts voting not to table.

Barfield's motion then passed by a vote of 130 to 87, with one vote from Precinct 13 joining Precincts 9, 10, 12 and 14.

The convention passed by voice vote a resolution submitted by Barfield which said:

"Whereas, Governor Price Daniel has been re-nominated by a large majority for a second term as Governor;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved: That this county Democratic Convention endorses the program of Governor Price Daniel and pledges its support to him in the general election and in his efforts in behalf of unity, progress, and good government in our state."

Matthis moved that a letter of commendation and appreciation be written to Jack Taylor, outgoing county chairman, for his services to the party in the past years. The motion carried by voice vote.

Delegates to the state convention will be Charles Wilson, Joe Richardson, Russell Sahm, L. E. Sankey, K. Bert Watson, Walte Irwin, William Q. Boyce, Frank Storm, Earl O'Keefe, Mrs. F. C. ## Water Use on Increase Here

Canyon's water use last week came within a million gallons of the use during the same week last year. This year's use was 8,110,700 gallons and it was 9,240,500 gallons last year.

The pumpage for July this year was about five million gallons below last July with a total of 35,880,500 gallons being pumped this year. Last July's total use was 41,026,200 gallons — a difference of 5,145,700 gallons.

Daily usage has not gone over two million gallons yet this year. The highest use has been slightly over 1.9 million gallons, whereas last year saw a number of days over two million.

Geography Tour Visits In Canada

The first half of the West Texas State College geography tour ended with a guided tour of Victoria, British Columbia, and Grand Coulee Dam, Wash. The 25-day tour is under the direction of Dr. M. B. Measamer, head of the geography department at WT.

Victoria is more like London than any other English City, according to Dr. Measamer. Shortly before the Texas group arrived in the city, Princess Margaret had visited there. The provincial city was still decorated for the 39 members of the tour.

The tour of Victoria included the Canadian Red Cross headquarters, island hospitals, the Yacht Club, Old Charming Inn (where Rudyard Kipling once made his home), the Parliament Buildings, the Empress Hotel, the Public Library, the Craigdarroch Castle, the new $3,000,000 Government House and its 30 acres of flower gardens.

The tour group visited Grand Coulee Dam enroute to Lake Louise, Alberta, Canada. Primarily an irrigation project, the project covers an area of 1,000,000 acres, which through irrigation has become suitable for farming.

The couple will be married Aug. 30 at the Happy Methodist Church. In the receiving line were Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Robinson; Miss Robinson and Mrs. McFarland. Judy Boyd registered guests.

Mary McCaslin, Betty Jean Foster and Clara Long presided at the serving table, which was covered with a pink satin floor length cloth. The centerpiece was of cerise carnation and palm leaves. Silver appointments completed the setting.

Carnations were also used in the entertaining rooms.

Hostesses were Mrs. Jack Barnard, Mrs. Iverson Leake, Mrs. Florence Moore, Mrs. Clara Long, Mrs. Willa Elliott, Mrs. Bruce Fields, and Mrs. Graham. Assisting in the house party were Billie Graham and Bobby Hensen.

State Workshop Hears Conatser

Collectors May Get Conservation Stamp

Stamp collectors desiring first-day covers of the 4-cent Forest Conservation commemorative stamp, which goes on first-day sale Oct. 27 at Tucson, Ariz., should send addressed envelopes and money order remittance to the Postmaster, Tucson.

The outside of the addressed envelope should be endorsed "First Day Covers Forest Conservation Stamp." The stamp .84 by 1.44 inches, vertically arranged, will be printed on the Giori press in yellow, brown and green. It was designed by Rudolph Wendelin, staff artist for the Department of Agriculture.

This first forest conservation stamp in history commemorates the 100th anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt and his work with forest conservation.

Wiesbaden is the home of the Headquarters United States Air Forces in Europe. During the visit, special briefings are being conducted for the future officers of the Air Force. Evening and weekends are free for sightseeing.

The cadets' travels are taking them to several bases in Germany, France, England and Spain where they are getting a first-hand view of the operations of the Air Force in Europe.

The cadets are scheduled to return to the United States Aug. 8. They will return by Military Air Transport Service aircraft.

CARL ANDERSON

Primary elections bring to mind the story of a Chicago woman who fainted dead away when her husband telephoned he had just been elected to the Board of Trustees in their suburb. He heard the thump, dispatched an ambulance to the scene to revive her. It was the excitement that did her in.

The wife of a politico does have her troubles. First off, she begins to make news with every movement. What should have been a quiet little plop that flattered her husband's vanity, for this dear lady became embarrassing public notice that she was mighty ambitious right in her own neighborhood. It's the kind of irony that amuses: "What if he'd been elected governor? He'd be a widower!"

Some women blossom in the limelight of publicity. Like the middle sized bear, they're "just right" for marrying politicians. They love name-dropping, name-remembering, and life in a goldfish bowl. But the stay-at-home woman, who makes a first rate wife for business man, lawyer or teacher, may grow silent and bitter in the artificial atmosphere of flash bulbs and vote-getting.

As July election returns came in, many a woman had to bolster a defeated spouse's wounded ego, while secretly giving thanks that their easy-going life wouldn't change for the worse. Many concealed personal regret to appear enthusiastic over a spouse's victory.

We say the politician's wife has it rough either way. If she's good at helping her spouse get ahead, folks say his position has gone to her head. If she's sincerely bored with speakings and hand-shaking, no amount of good intention can disguise her boredom. A successful wife, like a chameleon, must take on the protective coloration of her husband's job, whether or not it fits her personality. Makes us wonder why there aren't more divorcees, maybe?
